PATERSON ASKS NO AID.

Eight Million Dollars Wasted by Fire.

Taxpayers in a Fix With Books Gone.

Work of the Conflagration—Great Crowds View the Burnt District.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. PATERSON (N. J.) Feb. 10.—Mayor Hinchliffe said tonight that he thought the loss by fire would reach at least $8,000,000. Absolutely no list of the losses, even an estimate, has been made up for the section east of the Erie Railroad.

A well-insured insurance man said today that it would be safe to say that the property lost in the fire was insured at about two-thirds of its value or perhaps a little more. It is understood that the insurance companies will not figure higher than 35 per cent.

Mayor Hinchliffe said tonight: "It will not be necessary for us to appeal for financial aid outside of Paterson. Only three applicants went to the Army building last night for assistance, and all these cases have been cared for."

A feeling of confidence in the future pervades the minds of citizens. Mayor Hinchliffe has the situation well in hand, and to an offer of assistance which came from Mayor Lord of New York, an answer was returned containing the thanks and the assurance that Paterson is managing to care for those in need.

Money and securities said to amount to $2,000,000 were recovered from the two huge vaults under the ruins of the First National Bank this afternoon. Books, papers, building and paper money were found scattered about.

Buried beneath the ruins of the city hall were found the safes which belonged to the department stores, and also the papers, legal documents and public records were found unharmed. The safe of the Federal Water station, which stood at Nos. 107 and 109 Washington street, was destroyed, and only part of its contents recovered was $500 in silver.

The greatest danger in city affairs will be in the Tax Collector's office. So far as can be ascertained, the records of the department are destroyed. There is a set of books which shows the valuation, etc., of each piece of property in the city, and the records of the city, which are kept in the city hall, and which are almost certain the records showing who paid their taxes and who had not, are destroyed, and that there is not in existence anything from which the information could be obtained.

The work of clearing up the burned district has not begun, but the firemen were busy until night with repairing and dismantling the debris. The walls that endangered those who had to be inside the burned area. So well did this work progress that in the afternoon the public was permitted in the ruins and sentries were posted at important points, keeping the crowd moving. Thousands passed about the choked-up streets and reviewed the ruins during the two hours and a half allowed them.

CONFLAGRATION'S WORK.—BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—M. PATERSON (N. J.) Feb. 10.—The fierce conflagration which burned its way through the business center of Paterson yesterday, has completely swept its forces, and is quickly shrinking into the ashes and broken brick of its ruin. The firemen who hurried from other cities to aid the endangered city have gone back to their homes, and the companies of the local department have been ordered to their houses for the rest and refreshment they so sorely need.

No tabulation of individual losses that can be accepted as reliable has yet been made, and it is quickly shrinking before satisfactory figures can be prepared. Equally incomplete is the estimate of insurance losses. It is stated today that the amount of insurance was between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, but what the actual loss was, calculation was not clear. Several of the largest losers said they had not yet had an opportunity to consult their policies, and that meantime they could not tell what amount they carried.

Probably no fire of equal magnitude and widespread destructiveness ever produced an equally extraordinary loss of lives. Dozens of firemen and the volunteers who labored with them were slightly injured by falling bricks and timber, and by flying firebrands or temporarily overcome by smoke, but only a few of them were seriously injured or killed.

The fire made no headway during the night. Fanned by strong winds it burned up furiously in the early morning hours of the morning, but wherever it showed, the firemen turned streams on it and beat it down. The firemen were completely exhausted after more than ten hours' continuous work, but remained at their posts. There was comparatively little suffering on the part of those rendered homeless by the fire, and the Army, churches and public shelters opened their doors to the few applicants during the night. Practically every home that was not destroyed, and nearly every one who found shelter at the house of some friend.

The evacuation of Mayor Hinchliffe that the city can care for its own is not concerned in by everybody, and there may be an appeal later for outside help. Those who are organizing a plan of relief soon will be able to reach a decision on the matter. The plan of relief is being organized by the business district, and the officials of the banks expressed a desire to express their sympathy to the city, and to the financial standing and credit of the city.

The First National Bank received many offers of assistance, and in acknowledgment President Edward T. Bell issued the following statement: "The officers and directors of the First National Bank desire to express their thanks and profound appreciation to all friends who have so generously tendered their sympathy, collection and aid in the terrible calamity which has befallen our city."

The Hamilton Trust Company announced that it would, as soon as the ruins of its old building became cool enough, commence the erection of a new bank building, to cost $250,000. All of the banks and trust companies announced that their safes and vaults had proved strong enough to preserve the securities, money and records locked in them at the close of business yesterday. Many of the banks and trust companies had their safes and vaults in new places and homes were destroyed were ruined financially and must give up, but the majority will be able to start afresh. They are courageous and confident. The underwriters and adjusters representing the insurance companies that held the hundreds of risks affected by the fire are hurrying here and on duty as long as necessary for their services exist. Much valuable property still exposed and the authorities are determined to prevent looting and disorder in any form. Saloons that attempted to open after midnight were promptly closed, and the sale of liquor was prohibited until after daylight.

Later firemen clearing away the debris on the third floor, came upon the headless body of a man. The head had been burned off, and the body horribly scorched. The boy is supposed to have been a street waif who had sought shelter in one of the vacant rooms on the top floor of the building. Half a dozen other boys were sleeping in this part of the building. Whether other boys were sleeping in the building is not known.

SOUTH AFRICA.
EEL-LIKE DEWET
TWISTED OUT OF TRAP.

LORD KITCHENER'S PLAN WAS PARTIALLY SUCCESSFUL.

Although Boer Leader Escaped, It Resulted in Greatest Single Capture of Burgers Since the Conqueror of Soudan Arrived in South Africa.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. LONDON, Feb. 10.—(By Atlantic Cable.) Lord Kitchener's great plan, which he has been elaborating for months past, failed by the escape of Dewet, but was successful in the great single capture of Burgers since Lord Kitchener's arrival in South Africa. The British forces, which were employed in an immense circular parallelogram formed by the lines of blockhouses and the railroads between Worcester, Pretoria, Lindley and Volksstad. It is estimated that Dewet's forces amounted, roughly speaking, to 2,000 men.

Lord Kitchener personally superintended the final preparations for the expedition, and the great move was made in a frontier of forty miles, the advance extending sixty miles. The object of driving the Boers against the railroad line, where armored trains could patrol, and were repeatedly in action, shelling the Boers to prevent their crossing the railroad. Dewet succeeded in slipping through the lines to the southward. The whereabouts of Dewet is not known. One report says he is with Dewet.

prosperous year. Of course, our earnings for January and February will be greater than for the same months last year. There is no real trouble to cut our profits, as there was then. In other matters the road promises well, very well. I may say we have made new arrangements for our trans-Pacific trade, giving up our own line, using all the Pacific lines that run into San Francisco. The traffic will not be distributed among these lines on any settled basis, but will go to whatever ships are most convenient at the time. We think the arrangement will result in more prompt service and delivery across the ocean.

The canal is a question of the future, and of the distant future. If I am correct in my opinion, "The government estimates that it will cost $200,000,000. It is a notorious fact that it is safe to double the government figures on such undertakings. If that canal is finished inside of twenty years, it will be a surprise to many who should know. As to its effect on transcontinental lines, that is too far away to be considered. Great changes may come in twenty, or even in ten, years; so the effect upon railways in general, and the Pacific in particular, is problematical. Just now the people at large are very enthusiastic about the matter, but I am content to be one of the minority."

ENTERPRISING AMERICANS.
ENGLISH RAILWAY BUILDINGS.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M. NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The formation of the Great Britain Railway Development Company at Trenton does not cause much alarm here, cables the London correspondent of the Tribune. It is recognized that the electric-railway business in this country cannot suffer much from any new competition, as all of it that can be bought has already been secured by American capitalists. They find, however, that it is very difficult to obtain Parliamentary sanction for new schemes.

GERMANY.
RETURNS TO CHARGE.
AGAINST PAUNCEFOTE.

OFFICIAL GERMAN PAPER READY TO PRODUCE PROOF.

Reiterates the Charge That English Ambassador Proposed a Collective Note to the United States Declaring American Intervention in Cuba Unjustifiable.

BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M. BERLIN, Feb. 10.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The official North German Gazette this evening joins in the controversy regarding the attitude of the several powers previous to the outbreak of the Spanish-American war. It says Lord Pauncefote's proposal, April 1, 1898, to send a collective note to the government of the United States declaring American intervention in Cuba to be unjustifiable, is a historical fact.

The German official declaration in the North German Gazette is a direct consequence of the incredulity expressed by American and English newspapers regarding the disclosure from here of the action of Lord Pauncefote, of April 1, 1898. If this declaration is really a historical fact, the documents relating to the matter will undoubtedly be published. The correspondence of a German official learns that a transcript of the dispatch from Dr. von Holleben, the German Ambassador at Washington, communicating the proposal of Lord Pauncefote was sent to Emperor William, and that the Emperor announced his flat refusal of the proposal.

"But for the action of Emperor William, Lord Pauncefote's proposal would have been accepted by the other powers."

in his preliminary remarks, "will be of especial interest in view of the city's recent acquisition of the waterworks. Some of us may differ as to this municipal policy, but none of us will dispute the wisdom of the Council's appointment of the new Water Commission. It comprises men all above reproach."

Mr. Davis then condemned "the frittering away of the city's valuable resources" and said that the city's municipality had been trying itself out for over a generation to come. He denounced the proposed freight franchise that elicited yesterday's bid of over twelve cents.

WHY WE ARE SLOW.

"Public ownership," began Prof. Parsons, "is the result of enlightened citizenship. Why is it that the United States is far behind England and Germany in this matter? Principally because the great majority of our brain men are directing their energies to other ends."

The speaker commended Los Angeles for its forward step to the ownership of its water supply, and said that statistics to show that the city may soon be able to reduce the water rates. After Prof. Parsons thought Los Angeles has little chance to raise on the electric-light rates.

"We have 5-cent fares here," said the speaker; "in Glasgow the fares are half that, and in some instances are reduced to 1 cent. The fare in Los Angeles might reasonably be as low as 3 cents. In England the sweep of the century is toward municipal ownership, and it is certainly faster in this country? Because there is here a partnership with corporate influence—not always corrupt, but the corporate influence is in every legislative hall. Either the incorporators or their friends are in power, while the masses of the people are busy at their daily work, and have no time to go to their Councilmen, or wine them or dine them or give them pleasant rides in trolley's."

'PHONE COST TOO MUCH.

The telephone was next discussed.

"Telephone rates in Los Angeles," says Prof. Parsons, "are twice too high. Cut them in half, and you will have a cut in rates, and still the company would make a profit. Don't let your city be indicted with two telephone systems. You can't have two, and you will fail if they will unite and there will be no competition. The best way usually is to take your system over to the city, and then you can do what you wish. Buy the street railways, the telephone, the water system, etc. Yes, it does cost a good deal, but this is the point: You can't get rid of these systems, but the government can. You cut them out from the influence of capitalism. Pay only reasonable purchase prices, but buy these systems, even if it costs a few million dollars."

has perhaps paid too much for the waterworks, but you know how well it is going to pay. Think what the profits are now.

PEOPLE ARE ASLEEP.

Discussing the reason of our apathy on government ownership the speaker concluded that the people are asleep to the benefits they might enjoy. Private ownership lays all emphasis on money; it is a selfish drive to get rich, to get manhood and the things of this world.

"Education is the basis of this great work," concluded the lecturer. "Let us wake up the people with the great ideas, and, just as they begin to become cooperative men, they will welcome cooperation, of which public ownership is an excellent beginning, and an essential part of the solution of socialism, but I do not want every industry put into the hands of the gov-

Competition is dead, but the Irishman's turtle, with its head cut off, it "may not be conscious of it, because it keeps moving on. But with the quickness of the turtle, the law of the service at less cost to the people is already breaking."

After the lecture Prof. Parsons answered many questions, stating that about 400 cases of public nuisance in this country, twenty-two are often quoted as failures, but on careful investigation, made by himself, he found that only two had actually failed.

MOVE INTO NEW FIELD.

Evangelists Potter and Blithorn Open two-weeks' Campaign for Souls at First Methodist Church.

Great have been the manifestations of the revival spirit at the Westlake University and Boyle Heights Methodist churches, during the past three weeks. The large church, with its high ceilings, the high-water mark of the city, the First Church last night, when these lay evangelists opened a two weeks' meeting.

The large church was packed, every available seat on the floor and in the balcony was occupied, and throughout the two hours the evangelists, singing, speaking and prayer, nothing happened to distract attention, but everyone seemed to be dead in earnest.

F. P. Bilhorn has a sweet, powerful and penetrating tenor voice, and the songs sung by him and the chorists had a marked impression. Two of the most effective were of his own composition, "Sweet Savior Shall See" and "Sweet Peace."

The question that the jailer asked Paul, "What must I do to be saved?" furnished Evangelist Potter his text. His remarks were to the point, and there was no deviation from the question. He lined out forcibly and simply the path that sinners must take to gain eternal life, and stated that the answer of Paul's, "Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be saved," was the only solution of the question.

Over a hundred of the prisoners came for prayers, and nearly as large a number of penitents knelt at the altar. From the evangelist requested that those who believed that they had been delivered from sin to raise their hands, nearly fifty responded.

Sparkler Placed.

J. O. McQuinn reported to the detective yesterday that some time between 9 p.m. and 10 p.m. Sunday a thief entered his room at Temple street and Grand avenue, and stole a diamond stud valued at $65. The door to the room was found unlocked by the thief.

The Methodist Ministerial Association was addressed yesterday at the First Methodist Church by Rev. J. D. Chaffee of Minneapolis, upon the theme, "Internal Goodness." The meeting was held in the afternoon and the press for liberal space given to revival meeting news.

Razor Shop Shaved.

The work shop in the rear of the barber supply house of the Stadium Kirchner Company, No. 130 North Main street, was entered before daybreak yesterday morning, and six new razors and six second-hand ones, which had been left there to be ground, were stolen. The thief also secured a valuable assortment of small tools.

Death of a Clergyman.

The Rev. W. D. U. Shearman of Monrovia died at the Amnicken in this city early Sunday morning. He had been sick for some weeks, and his death was not unexpected. The funeral service will be held on Thursday at 10 a.m. at St. John's Church, West Adams street, where there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion.

Chain Comes Back.

The Chief of Police last night recovered the watch chain taken from E. E. Powers, Esq., who was yesterday arrested and robbed by Myrtle, Cane and Kelly early in January. It had been sold by Myrtle and Kelly to a Chinaman, who later left the city, but who recently returned. The Chinaman has identified Kelly as one of the men who sold the chain to him, and he will be a valuable witness for the prosecution.

Caught in a Hatchway.

John Chase of No. 697 South Broadway was the victim of a peculiar accident at No. 146 South Broadway yesterday morning. The double doors of a sidewalk hatchway were open, but the brace to hold them up was not in place. Chase ran against one door and knocked it down, falling across it. He would have dropped into the hatchway, but the other door fell upon him, holding him between the two. He was only slightly injured, and was taken to St. John's Hospital.

Stole Horse and Buggy.

While D. D. Deeds of No. 1362 Wright street was attending the session of an Odd Fellows' lodge last night, a horse and buggy, valued at $100, was stolen from the Odd Fellows' Block, on South Main street. Patrolman Sheets saw the man drive off with the horse and buggy, but thought nothing of it until later. He notified him of the theft. The horse was a bay, and the buggy a two-seated surrey.

Two Men Were Poisoned.

John McQuinn appeared at the Police Station at 4 o'clock yesterday morning and stated that he feared he had poisoned himself. He has been there many times for drunkenness and other offenses. He said he had taken a drink of something which he thought was alcohol, but had later learned that it was wood alcohol, a deadly poison. If it was wood alcohol, it did not injure him, for after being treated at the Receiving Hospital, he was able to leave in an hour.

Limited Very Late.

The "California Limited" through train from Chicago, which yesterday afternoon arrived after 1 o'clock this morning, arrived about twelve hours late.

What the Thieves Took.

The burglars who entered the Adams-street residence of Attorney W. K. Taylor Sunday evening, and who were frightened away by the arrival of Taylor and his wife from church, succeeded in finding a gold band worth $100, a pair of gold cuff buttons, set with quartz, some other jewelry, a few trinkets, and a collection consisting of "shipplaster" currency and Chinese money. These losses were reported yesterday.

The New St. Joseph's.

The new St. Joseph's Church, which is being built by the Franciscan Fathers, at Twelfth and Los Angeles streets, has its two great apses completed, and surrounded by large gilt crosses. The exterior of the immense structure is now practically complete, but while work will be pushed, without cessation, the interior will not be completed until November. The construction of the arches will involve great labor and expense, and when the whole is done it will have cost $100,000. The basement is being pushed to completion, and within a month will be occupied by some of the departments of the school work connected with the parish. This is done in order to have the property in actual use, as required by the law exempting church property from taxation.

The Redeemers.

The Christian Endeavors of the city will this evening tender a reception to the officers of the State Union of Christian Endeavor, at the First Christian Church, Eleventh and Hope streets. The social part of the evening will be preceded by the installation of the officers of the Los Angeles City Union. The State officers are on a tour of the country, and will return to Pasadena, to attend the Los Angeles county convention on Friday and Saturday. John Willis, pastor of the First Christian Church, will also be present. He will be at the reception on Thursday, and will be at the reception on Friday and Saturday, and will address a mass meeting in this city, in Simpson Auditorium, on Thursday evening, February 15.

Regal Shoes

IT DON'T PAY TO BUY

BARGAIN COUNTER SHOES.

There must be some reason for selling a shoe at one price to-day and another price to-morrow. The real reason usually is that the shoe is not worth the regular price and a "bargain sale price" is needed to sell it.

Regal Shoes are sold at the one and only price of $3.50 the country over all the year around. No "bargain counter" methods are needed to push Regals.

When you buy at "bargain sales" you are pretty sure to get badly fitted—if you are particular about your feet you can't get satisfaction in bargain counter sizes. Buy Regals—$3.50—all the time—no more, no less—and you can't buy better shoes if you pay $12 or $14 to a custom boot-maker.

The Regal is the only shoe sold at $3.50 direct from Tannery to Consumer in its own stores from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Regal Dressing gives the most lustrous and lasting polish, makes the shoes soft and easy, and preserves the leather indefinitely.

The Regal SHOE for women, now sold only in Boston, New York and Philadelphia, will arrive in March, and a complete stock, all sizes, all widths, all the good shapes will be carried by Regal Co. in their Los Angeles store, 222 W. Third Street, BRADBURY BLOCK.

THE WOMAN'S ADVICE

TO ANOTHER.

Immediate Relief from the Use of Paine's Celery Compound.

BOSTON, Jan. 13, 1902.

MY DEAR SUFFERING PUBLIC: It is with a feeling of extreme gratification and thankfulness and a humane desire to benefit others that I write out my experience in the use of Prof. Edward E. Paine's wonderful preparation, "Paine's Celery Compound." Owing to a fall from a horse several years ago, I became a nervous invalid, and last year I entered a hospital as a patient, where I was operated on by a famous New York surgeon. The surgical operation was successful, but nervous prostration followed. I was in Newport, with the best medical attendance, failed to restore my system to its normal condition. I was absolutely unable to digest any solid food, and my condition of my digestive organs, combined with insomnia, was a constant depression. A constant tenderness and soreness in the stomach, with a dull headache and extreme weakness, created a condition of mind from which I was unable to rise. I was in this melancholy frame of mind that I changed to meet a Boston woman, who said to me, "I was in almost the condition that you are now in, and I was cured by Paine's Celery Compound, a trial, which I did, and it cured me completely when everything else had failed."

I was rather skeptical about trying a prepared medicine, but I ordered a bottle of Paine's Celery Compound and began to take it according to directions. Much to my surprise, I slept soundly at night and did not wake in the morning with the usual headache. Then, too, I developed an appetite for solid food and soon began to digest a course dinner without any unpleasant sensations. I am now restored to health after about two months' use of the Compound. I am deeply indebted to you for writing personal letters to my particular friends. With the sincere hope that others may be benefited as I have been by the use of Paine's Celery Compound, I am,

Very truly yours,
MRS. FRANCES L. BERNHARDT.

HAS CLARK CONTROL OF THE TRACTION COMPANY?

Rumor That the Montana Millionaire Has Locked Horns with Huntington in Contest for Street Railway Supremacy in Los Angeles—Secret of Big Bids for the Franchise Before the City Council Yesterday.

IT is reported that Hon. William A. Clark of Montana, president and chief builder of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad, has purchased a controlling interest in the Traction Company, and thus becomes a rival of Huntington in the Los Angeles street-railway field.

This may be the secret of the mysterious bids of "Mr. Murry" and "Mr. Davis" which fell into the City Council like a bombshell yesterday. As the story goes, Millionaire Clark has locked horns with Millionaire Huntington and made the beginning of a supremely interesting battle.

If two millionaires of such magnitude have pledged their fortunes to great enterprises of this character, it has a tremendous significance for Los Angeles. It means that they recognize this city as the coming metropolis of the Pacific Coast, and furthermore that we are bound to have the best street-car system in the country.

It is a case of "When Greek meets Greek, then comes the tug of war." By outbidding his millionaire rival for the franchise, Senator Clark yesterday won the first pull down, if, as is rumored, he is a party to the big deal.

try to find out what the enemy is likely to do. That is what we have been doing. We have not been asleep. We are not exactly taken by surprise. We knew some emergency might arise, and the minds were prepared. We knew what to do. If any one wants these franchises at $500,000, or $415,000, or $125,000, he is welcome to them at the lowest price of the three. They may be worth it to him. They are not to us. No, we will not let them down. We can get private rights of way connecting our present systems, and accomplish our purposes for less than half the sums offered for these franchises. And I say again, these large sums will not be made good.

It is an obvious suggestion that the Salt Lake people may be behind the Traction company in this matter. Such a suspicion has occurred to me, and to Mr. Randolph. But understand, it is only a suspicion and should be given no more weight in any one's mind than that.

Mr. Huntington's guess was probably a good deal more than a leap in the dark. Many other people who are conversant with the former attempts of the Traction and the Terminal to get together, and who see the increased importance of such a connection since the organization of the Salt Lake road, gave expression to the same thought.

LARGE PLANS AFOOT.

Those who insist that Senator Clark is the chief figure in the game declare that with its increased financial support the Traction company will carry out extensions and improvements which will be of the utmost value to Los Angeles.

For one item, it is stated, the old Terminal line to Pasadena (now the Salt Lake line) will be electrified and be made a part of the Traction system, while Los Angeles will be electrified with new tracks and cars, and will be accorded a magnificent service.

The coming of H. E. Huntington to the city and his investment should have given Los Angeles a great impetus. If Millionaire Clark has really enlisted in a movement to outdo him if possible, the impetus will be doubly impelled.

Would it not be a booming thing for Los Angeles to have these financial Goliaths lined up in such a race, as they are said to be?

THE TRACTION PROPERTY.

The Los Angeles Traction Railway system was started in 1895, the original line extending from the Santa Fe depot to University street, a distance of over five miles. On this road the first car was run September 1, 1895.

In the meantime the road has grown to a great extent. The road now covers a great deal of the city, but the street-car line has not been extended very far. The road now covers a great deal of the city, but the street-car line has not been extended very far.

Transfer Includes Hundred and Sixty-seven Acres, with Two Hundred and Fifty Improved Lots, Race Track, Clubhouse and Waterworks.

A. R. Fraser, G. M. Jones and associates have purchased of Abbot Kinney and Matilda J. Dudley, the Kinney & Dudley tract, which extends along the ocean front, from the corner of Broadway to the corner of Main street, a distance of about 600 feet. It comprises about 167 acres, and includes over 400 vacant lots, and 250 lots improved with cottages, which were built on leased ground. All the leases made by the present grantees, the purchase also covers the race track, and the clubhouse and waterworks, which were built last year, at a cost of $10,000, together with the waterworks used in connection with the tract. The total cost of the property to the purchasers will be about $500,000. It will consist of $250,000 in cash, and $250,000 worth of improvements that are to be made upon the property.

THREE INVESTMENTS.

H. C. Norris has bought of E. P. Bryan, through C. E. Norton, 52x140 feet on the west side of Grand avenue, between Third and Fourth streets, with a ten-room, two-story frame dwelling, for $10,000. He also purchased of Isaac A. Lothian, an investment of 50x140 feet, unimproved, on the east side of Main street, 240 feet south of Eleventh street, for $1500, and 50x140 feet, unimproved, southeast corner of Los Angeles and Tenth streets, for $4000.

DOLLAR SAVINGS BANK.

New Institution for Los Angeles Licensed Yesterday by the State Board of Bank Commissioners.

Yesterday a new financial institution was authorized to do business in Los Angeles, when the State Board of Bank Commissioners granted a license to the Dollar Savings Bank, with authorized capital of $250,000. Fifty thousand dollars of the amount has been paid in.

This institution had been projected for some time, and about two weeks ago a meeting was held in the offices of the Central Bank by those interested. At that time a board of directors was selected, consisting of J. C. Kays, W. C. Patterson, J. E. Flahorn, Fred L. Baker, Robert N. Burr, William Mead and one other. William Mead is president.

Offices on Fourth street, in the Chamber of Commerce building, will be used for awhile, but as soon as the O. T. Johnson building is completed, both the Central Bank and the Dollar Savings Bank will occupy the corner of the structure, where quarters specially adapted to the uses of the two banks are to be provided. This will include a safe-deposit department.

BOYS' GHASTLY FIND IN THE CITY SANJA.

BODY OF MAN NAMED STREET IN IRRIGATING DITCH.

Supposed to Have Fallen into the Stream While Asleep or Intoxicated, but May Have Been Victim of Fool Play.

The body of a man named Street, whose further identity has not been established, was found floating in the city canal south of East First street, just below the first hill west of Boy's Heights, yesterday afternoon. Willis Weber, Fred Haemmerle and Harry Martin, boys playing hide and seek, made the horrible discovery.

The body was half-drowned under brush and weeds. The legs and lower portion were covered by the water, but the head and shoulders had lodged against a tuft of grass, and the face was exposed. What appeared to be a terrible wound was on the left temple, the flesh having been torn away, leaving the bone almost bare, and this at first led to the belief that murder had been committed. It is not certain that he was not a victim of foul play, in that theory, in the light of subsequent developments.

The hat was found about fifty feet from the body, lying on the bank in a position to indicate that the man had been near the water's edge, perhaps asleep or intoxicated, and had rolled or fallen into the stream. The hat was dry and just above water level, is a steep bank with a sheer drop of six feet or more, and further up is a well-beaten path. It is possible that the owner staggered from this path and plunged down the hill into the canal, which is not protected by railing or other guard against accidents. The hat is of the white fedora style, 4 1/2 size, and bears the label of W. H. Doud, Fifth and D streets, San Diego.

The body was removed to Booth & Boylson's undertaking establishment, in a cool pocket was found a letter addressed to "Mr. Street," and a little being given. The letter was from West Fifth street, this city, and contains a request for assistance in the effort to secure recovery of the body. Street that he formerly knew him in St. Louis, where he lived at No. 219 Olive street, and sold flowers on Broadway. The letter bears the date of January 28. Officers went to Richmond room several times last night, but have been unable to find him.

The only money found was a Canadian 5-cent silver piece, a cheap nickel watch was found, which had stopped at 2:10 o'clock, and there was also an empty pocket-book. The body was affixed in a black coat and vest, brown trousers and tan shoes. It was about 5 feet 3 inches in height, of slender build and bald. The age appeared to be about 40 years. Except at the wound in the side of the head, decomposition had not set in.

A careful examination was made of the wound, and the conclusion was reached that the flesh had been eaten away by a rodent. The appearance of the body indicated that it had been in the water several days.

An autopsy will be held this morning, and the inquest as soon as Richards is found.

DOLLAR SAVINGS BANK.

New Institution for Los Angeles Licensed Yesterday by the State Board of Bank Commissioners.

Yesterday a new financial institution was authorized to do business in Los Angeles, when the State Board of Bank Commissioners granted a license to the Dollar Savings Bank, with authorized capital of $250,000. Fifty thousand dollars of the amount has been paid in.

This institution had been projected for some time, and about two weeks ago a meeting was held in the offices of the Central Bank by those interested. At that time a board of directors was selected, consisting of J. C. Kays, W. C. Patterson, J. E. Flahorn, Fred L. Baker, Robert N. Burr, William Mead and one other. William Mead is president.

Offices on Fourth street, in the Chamber of Commerce building, will be used for awhile, but as soon as the O. T. Johnson building is completed, both the Central Bank and the Dollar Savings Bank will occupy the corner of the structure, where quarters specially adapted to the uses of the two banks are to be provided. This will include a safe-deposit department.

After the accident he ran away leaving the load of milk without any one to watch it.

TWENTY-ACRE PARK OFFERED.

At the regular bi-monthly meeting of the Southwest Improvement League held last night at Wilson's Hall, a citizen of the Fifth Ward offered a twenty-acre tract of land, situated southeast of University station, to be converted into a city park, provided that the city will give assurance of assistance in beautifying and keeping it in good shape. The offer was made informally after the meeting had adjourned, and no action was taken. The Committee on Fire and Water requested Councilman Bowen to use his influence in securing a more adequate water supply.

HARDEST SQUEEZE IN LOS ANGELES.

Reporter's Experience With a Super-time Car and Artificial Respiration Coincidentally Induced.

MURPHY's life was saved yesterday by a Times reporter.

Knowing that the new chief of the street-railway system would want to look over the ground before he got into office, and realizing that his life is too precious to risk the possibility of his catching a super-time car on any one of the lines, a bold and daring reporter was sent out by The Times to suffer for him and take the degree.

With indomitable courage, he sought out the super-time cars and fought his battle well. No flowers.

It was just 6 o'clock when the reporter caught a car on the Second-street line. It is not so simple a matter as it sounds.

Unless you come at 4:30 and wait, the only way to catch the 6 o'clock car on the Second-street line is to grab the fluttering coat-tails of some one on the back platform and float gracefully through the air to your home, or else to grab somebody around the legs and throw him off and take his place in the excitement.

The Second-street car is a cute little thing, about the size of the caboose of a child's toy train. When it is empty, you can, after practice, get in by stepping sideways.

There are seats inside for one small man and a happy thought.

When you come to jam about fifty people in this, it reminds a fellow of a snake swallowing a goat. And it is about as uncomfortable for the passengers as it is for the driver.

In this particular instance, a benign Providence "stood in" and the reporter got a grip with one hand on a piece of handle and a square inch or so on the seat.

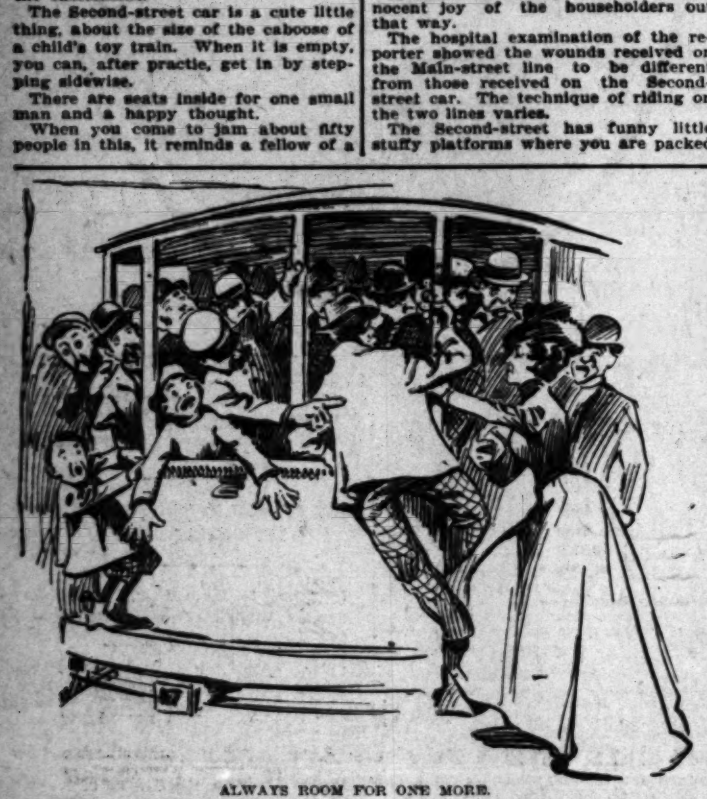

It turned out that the car was just getting comfortably filled when it got that far.

The inhabitants of the hill districts who have been schooled to suffer, heaped blithely on and filled it up to its accustomed capacity.

The only way life was kept going was by artificial respiration, coincidentally induced.

A fellow's breath would be slowly squeezed out by a fat man, who jammed you against the door and your chest felt as though it were being crushed against your spinal cord, when somebody else would give you a jab and smash in the lumber region and jerk back the wind into your body with a whiplash. Then somebody else would butt full tilt into your stomach until you saw stars.

The people who live on the hills get so used to it, that they can remember in so tightly you can't move an eyelash and on the inside, the narrow little aisles hold you tight and beyond barking your shins on the seat every time any one comes in, there is not much room left.

On Main street, there is more variety.

Mostly have to stand in the conductor's alleyway between the seats. Every time the car starts the whole bunch of you is jostled and the weight of an aggregate weight of a few thousand pounds of human flesh is laid trustfully on the solar plexus of the man who is jammed in against the motor.

When the car stops, the line topples over the other way upon the fellow at the door.

The position of greatest peril is to stand in the alleyway leading from the car out to the steps. Every one who gets in or out has to lurch by you. One fat old woman stepped on the reporter's feet (both of them) twice while she was getting out, and finally stopped stamping and fell over against his manly bosom with a crash, and a girl, who didn't have the providential hand, was lying on the arm of the car and the high hopes held at the beginning of the excitement here in the city.

It is a special point of honor with every old lady who gets off somewhere along the middle of the route to plant herself in the middle of the car. Then she gets up with her bundles, knocking off the hat of the woman ahead and slapping the head of the woman behind with her bundle when she turns to see what she had done to the woman in front. Her progress to the car door is one of triumph.

There are always standing about eight deep in the aisles. She don't do a thing to them. She bumps and punches and bucks her way through, and when she finally hobbles off the car backward, she looks back with a stony stare and says she has left a parcel and the conductor joyfully

One of the merriest moments is when the conductor starts to collect the fares. He always stands on your right foot when you give him the money, and shifts over to your left when he is making change.

If you should happen to want a transfer he stands on both and bores his elbow into your ribs.

was a circus equestrienne in disguise. The crowd opened and absorbed her, however.

The polite youth was bound she was to have a seat. He grabbed the top of the stool, to be ready to abandon ship in case of further disasters.

This time the stool fell over at her, and she stumbled over toward the car door, into a melee of gratified masculinity.

At this point she abruptly abandoned all idea of a seat.

OTHER DERRICKS TO BE RAZED.

STILL another oil operator has agreed to pull down needless derricks from his property in the local field. The Union Consolidated Crude Oil Company has joined in the movement, and will this week remove one of the unsightly skeletons from the intersection of Yale and Bernardo streets.

The popular campaign against the useless derrick is gaining ground among the operators, who begin to appreciate that there are hundreds of dollars' worth of lumber going to waste by allowing the old skeletons to remain. Many companies are now in a position to make the change at once, but not a few are looking to the substitution of the derrick for the old one.

For the drilling of a well by the method adopted by one man, a derrick is necessary. Originally it requires the expenditure of from $100 to $200 for lumber, and before it is really in first-class shape it represents an outlay of sometimes more than that.

After a well has been put on the pump, the derricks are no longer of use, except for pulling and cleaning casing and pumping rods. But this can be done with the use of a tripod. The tripod costs but $15, and operators can save from $85 to $200 by taking down the derrick when the well is in production.

There are derricks in the field, some of them built more than three years ago, that would be too old for drilling. If taken down, they would be sold for scrap, and the lumber used for other purposes. Such lumber would bring, if sold standing, from $15 to $20, perhaps more. Many the derricks would come down at once, if their owners did not hope that they might some day be used for other purposes.

As yet but a few derricks have been removed, but a beginning has been made. "I believe that all that is needed was to call the operators' attention to our mistake in allowing so much capital to go to waste," said A. Morrison, an operator, yesterday. "We will surely profit by the movement."

SANTA MARIA'S GREAT WELL.

Well No. 4 of the Western Union Oil Company in the Santa Maria field is being deepened, and as the work progresses the flow of oil increases. The production now surpasses all other wells in the field, and is said to be 100 barrels a day. The well is being deepened to 1,000 feet, and the company expects to produce 1,000 barrels a day when the well is completed.

The drillers of the Santa Maria field are working on the oil field, and the company expects to produce 1,000 barrels a day when the well is completed.

Dr. George Thomas Dowling to Preach a Series of Lenten Sermons.

As the Lenten season approaches there comes a cessation of worldly pleasures, and many thousands of people who are engaged in hard labor, the sick and convalescent, and those who cannot find rest in their own hearts, are exempt from the obligation of fasting.

Those who keep the fast shall make but one full meal a day, except on Sunday, either at noon or in the evening. The grounds and improvements already made have cost about $200, and the company will be capitalized for something over $500. R. H. Hollingsworth, formerly of Ventura, is mentioned as one of the promoters of the enterprise, and probably stockholder in the company.

Turkish Escort to Bearers of the Ransom Gradually Increased Until it Reached Formidable Proportions.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS—AP.)

LONDON, Feb. 10.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The Constantinople representative of the Daily Chronicle, describing the recent futile attempt to ransom Miss Ellen M. Stone, says: "When the American delegates with the ransom left the railroad at Zereb by carriage they had an escort of thirty cavalrymen. But as they advanced into Macedonia, the number of this escort was increased from all the military posts along the route. Small detachments joined the cavalcade until, arriving at Djubala, it was stronger than a squadron on a war footing."

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Being a mother of five children I have had experience with the general troubles of my sex. I was lacerated when one of my children was born and from that hour I date all my afflictions. I found that within a few months my health was impaired, I had female weakness and serious inflammation and frequent flooding. I became weak and dizzy but kept on my feet, dragging through my work without life or pleasure. A neighbor who had been helped by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound insisted that I take at least one bottle. I did so and felt so much better that I kept on the treatment. For seven months I used the Compound faithfully and gladly do I say it, health and strength are mine once more. I know how to value it now when it was so nearly lost, and I appreciate how great a debt I owe you. The few dollars I spent for the medicine cannot begin to pay what it was worth to me. Yours very truly, Mrs. ANNE MCKAY, Chaplain Sons of Temperance."

Specialists for Men

In the successful treatment of men's diseases it is not only necessary that a physician have a wide experience, but that his facilities be modern, his medicines fresh and pure, and his treatment of a kind that will leave no bad effects.

Many of the most severe cases that have been cured by Dr. Meyers & Co. were the direct result of a mismanagement at the hands of a family physician or so-called specialist. The success of Dr. Meyers & Co. is largely due to their modern and advanced methods. Whenever a man's disease may be, whether it is contracted or the result of abuse, the treatment of Dr. Meyers & Co. eliminates the unpleasant features of other treatments, sometimes saving a patient many weeks, sometimes years, of suffering.

Dr. Meyers & Co. build up the system while they kill the disease. Men and their patients have been brought back to robust health by these physicians. Consultation, either by person or by mail, free of charge.

Go-Carts and Buggies Reduced.

Simultaneously with the appearance of this ad these prices go into effect. We have reduced prices on many go-carts and baby carriages in order to balance our stock. We find that some styles are too plentiful and other styles are too scarce. We have ordered another carload to replenish the depleted line.

We handle only the Gendron make, which is recognized the world over as being the most carefully built line of baby vehicles made. They are easy running and are constructed on scientific principles. The styles of both go-carts and carriages are up-to-date. The upholstery and parafols are artistic and are made of good materials. Third Floor.

Sale of Silverware.

These items do not represent one in ten of the different pieces offered at this sale. We have reduced our entire stock of quadruple plated silverware with the exception of two or three lines of knives and forks.

Sensational Selling is the Result.

When we announced in Sunday's paper that this silverware sale would begin Monday morning, we little dreamed that the response would be so tremendous. The selling capacity of the third floor department has been taxed to its utmost, but in spite of the number of pieces sold there is still an immense assortment of desirable pieces left. We presume that before you can respond to this, the second announcement, a few of the pieces quoted here will be gone, but if such is the case other and better pieces will be substituted.

Automobile Garments

At Less than Materials Cost.

It was the manufacturer's misfortune. It was entirely his fault; he must stand the loss. It happened that 214 handsome automobile garments arrived last Friday, entirely too late to be sold at regular prices. Rather than ship them back to New York we arranged to dispose of them at a nominal price. The money you pay will hardly cover the cost of the material, without charge for lining, making or buttons.

They come in the popular 40-inch length and in full length. The materials themselves are of excellent quality. The making is the best that can be expected at any price. Sizes are 14, 16 and 18 years, and 34, 36 and 38-inch bust measure.
